English District Court Judge Nicholas Crichton

23 October 2012

CPPAQ is proud to present a lecture by visiting District Court Judge Nicholas Crichton who is responsible for establishing the UK's first Family Drug and Alcohol Court known as FDAC.

Since 2009, the court has assisted many parents who are in danger of losing their children to care due to drug and alcohol addiction. Judge Crichton says "to be successful you have to address simultaneously the addiction and the problems that trigger it, like housing, debt and domestic violence."

Judge Crichton will also share what he has learned from other jurisdictions and speak of the importance of listening to children.
