

CHILD PROTECTION PRACTITIONERS ASSOCIATION
SUE DIGGLES MEMORIAL PRACTICE PAPER

Young people and 'sexting'
Tuesday 8 March 2016

About this paper: Sue Diggles joined the CPPAQ Board in 2014 and sadly passed away in 2015. To recognise her outstanding contribution to CPPAQ and the child protection field in Queensland, the Catholic Education Office is sponsoring an annual practice paper in her name

Chair: Peter Hill, Director Employee Services, Brisbane Catholic Education Office

Speakers: A panel of speakers from child protection, education, legal, and police perspectives will address the following topics:

Effective responses to sexting – laws, law enforcement, education, policy reform

How schools deal with the issue, information for students and parents, other school strategies to give guidance to students re sexting

Rights, responsibilities, and support mechanisms for young people who sext, and for young people whose images are distributed via internet

Legal and other implications for children and young people involved

Legal frameworks and policing - investigation, decision to charge, evidentiary requirements, decisions of the courts.
